inadequately compacted or uncompacted fill, or fill otherwise unsuitable due its type, density and/or moisture content, (uncontrolled fill);

- (ii) own or owned land located within the area delineated on the corresponding maps attached to this Second Further Amended Statement of Claim and marked Annexure A, (the Spring Farm Area) and where that person owned the land as at 1 January 2018 or acquired the land after 1 January 2018, and who or which claim to have suffered economic loss as a result of a reasonable apprehension that some land within the Spring Farm Area is unsound for building, due to the conduct of the Defendants pleaded in this Amended Statement of Claim; and

- 3 The Plaintiff and Group Members have the same interest in these proceedings, by reason of the fact that the Plaintiff and each Group Member claim the same type of relief against the Defendants in negligence and for misleading or deceptive conduct and require a resolution of at least the common issues of law or fact identified under separate heading in this Second Further Amended Statement of Claim.
- 4 The First Defendant (Camden Council) is and was at all relevant times:

Factual Circumstances

8 As at May 2007, Camden Council was the owner of parcels of real property formerly entitled Lots 1/158953, 2/158953, 3/158953, 4/620435, 5/620435 and Y/162529 within the Spring Farm Area, which was itself wholly within the Camden Council area, (such parcels together being the Council Land) and subject to confirmation from a surveyor comprising the approximate area delineated in yellow on the map attached to this Amended Statement of Claim and marked Annexure C.

9 Prior to May 2007, the Council Land had been subject to substantial cutting and filling earthwork whilst owned by Camden Council.

10 As at May 2007, the Council Land was the subject of a Development Control Plan and a Local Government Environmental Plan, each of which expressly contemplated future residential building development for that land.

11 As at May 2007, and at all times thereafter:

- (a) the Council Land was, in many places and generally, unsound for building; and
- (b) the Cornish Masterplan Area was in many places unsound for building.

12 On or about 3 May 2007, Camden Council and CGSF entered into a Deed of Reciprocal Land Transfer, (the Deed), which embodied an agreement to swap the Council Land for other land then owned by CGSF.

13 It was expressly contemplated in the Deed that CGSF would subdivide and develop the Council Land for residential occupation upon acquisition.

- 14 CGSF took possession of the Council Land on or about 1 November 2010 for the purpose of carrying out remedial bulk earthworks.
- 15 As at 1 November 2010, the Council Land was still unsound for building.
- 16 As at 1 November 2010, Camden Council was aware, or ought to have been aware, that the Council Land was unsound for building.

Particulars

- (a) Camden Council was aware of the prior history of cutting and filling earthworks and the use of uncontrolled fill on the Council Land.
- (b) Camden Council was aware of the contents of at least one geotechnical investigation report which indicated that the Council Land was then currently unsound for building, namely the Site Fill Investigation Report prepared by GeoEnviro Consultancy dated 20 October 2010 commissioned by Camden Council (the GeoEnviro report).
- 17 As at 1 November 2010, CGSF was aware, or ought to have been aware, that the Council Land was unsound for building.

Particulars

- (a) CGSF was aware of the prior history of cutting and filling earthworks and the use of uncontrolled fill on the Council Land.
- (b) CGSF was aware of the contents of the GeoEnviro report.
- 18 The Council Land was transferred to CGSF pursuant to the Deed on or about 20 April 2012 (the Council Land transfer).
- 18A From in or about 2013, CGSF, or persons acting on its behalf or with its consent, were granted development approvals for the staged residential subdivision of the Cornish Masterplan Area, which included the Council Land (Development Approvals).

Particulars

- (a) The Development Approvals included at least Development Application DA50/2013 and Development Application DA754/2013.
- (b) Further particulars may be provided following the completion of interlocutory steps.

18B The Development Approvals included conditions that:

- (a) the entire development be designed and constructed in accordance with Council's Engineering Specification, being the specifications contained in the document entitled "Engineering Construction Specification adopted 10 February 2009" (Engineering Specification); and
- (b) a subdivision certificate would not be issued unless certain conditions were satisfied, including that:
 - (i) all conditions of the development consent were satisfactorily addressed and all engineering works were complete; and
 - (i) a Soil Classification Report prepared by a suitable qualified person in accordance with the AS 2870 'Residential Slabs and Footings', detailing the general classification of soil type generally found within the subdivision and for each lot within the subdivision.

18C The Engineering Specification included requirements to the effect that:

- (a) filling should be carried out in horizontal layers, extending to a dry density ratio in accordance with AS1289.5.4.1 'Dry Density Moisture Variation and Moisture Ratio' of not less than 95% standard in all areas (other than road pavement areas);
- (b) the compaction of all filled areas in excess of 300 mm must be tested and certified by a NATA Registered Laboratory;
- (c) the coordination of compaction testing including the placement, supervision, inspection and frequency of testing, shall be carried out in accordance with AS3798 'Guidelines on Earthworks for Commercial and Residential Developments – Appendix B, Level 2 Testing' as a minimum standard;
- (d) the compaction and testing of earthworks was to be undertaken in accordance with requirements including those referred to in (a) to (c) above; and
- (e) prior to the issue of a subdivision certificate, a 'Works-as-Executed' plan be prepared, such plan to include a fill plan certifying the extent, depth of fill and degree of compaction for all areas where the depth of fill exceeds 300mm.

- 19 On about 21 December 2012, Camden Council issued a series of Planning Certificates under s 149 of the EPAA with respect to the Council Land, each certificate stating that the land encompassed by the certificate was zoned General Residential, permitting development for dwelling houses with development consent.
- 20 Subsequent to 21 December 2012, CGSF caused to be created Plans of subdivision which proposed a subdivision of the Council Land into newly identified lots (the new lots).

Particulars

- (a) The Plans of subdivision included at least Deposited Plan DP1195584, Deposited Plan DP1195599, Deposited Plan DP1195585, DP1228464 and DP1228465.
- (b) Further particulars may be provided following the completion of interlocutory steps.
- 20A Subsequent to 21 December 2012, CGSF caused to be created plans of subdivision which proposed a subdivision of parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area into newly identified lots.

Particulars

- (a) Particulars of the relevant plans for subdivision will be provided following the completion of interlocutory steps.
- 20B Pursuant to s 109E of the EPAA (as in force at the time of the subdivisions), the Council was the principal certifying authority for the subdivision of land in the Cornish Masterplan Area (including the Council Land).
- 20C The Council issued a subdivision certificate in respect of each of the subdivisions in the Cornish Masterplan Area, including the subdivisions of the Council Land to create the new lots.
- 20D By reason of s 109J of the EPAA (as in force at the time of the subdivisions), by issuing the subdivision certificates the Council certified in respect of each subdivision that each requirement specified in the relevant development approvals that, by its terms, was required to be complied with before a subdivision certificate may be issued in relation to the plan of subdivision had been satisfied.

21 At some time between December 2012 and January 2015, SMEC TS was engaged by CGSF to and did perform:

- (a) geotechnical investigation services; and
- (b) remedial bulk earthworks support services, on or with respect to land in the Cornish Masterplan Area, including the Council Land, and each of the new lots, one of the primary purposes of the services being to ensure the new lots would not be unsound for building.

22 In about 2014, CGSF commenced a process of selling the new lots, although no Plan of subdivision creating the new lots had yet been registered.

22A From the time that CGSF commenced the process of selling the new lots, and at all material times since, CGSF has promoted the new lots, and all other lots in the Cornish Masterplan Area:

- (a) as part of a master planned residential development known in part as “Spring Farm Riverside” and in part as “Nepean Village Riverside” for which CGSF was responsible; and
- (b) as suitable for residential building.

Particulars

- (a) Statements contained on Cornish Group website.
- (b) Further particulars may be provided following completion of interlocutory steps.

23 As at the time CGSF commenced undertaking works for the staged residential subdivision of the Cornish Masterplan Area and as at the time CGSF commenced the process of selling the new lots, Camden Council was aware, or ought to have been aware, that the new lots and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Areas were unsound for building.

Particulars

- (a) Camden Council had not satisfied itself adequately or at all that the Council Land, and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, had been made suitable for residential building development since 1 November 2010;

- (a1) Council was aware as at and from some time prior to 1 November 2010 that the compaction and characteristics of the soil of the Council Land was at such times not suitable for residential building development;
- (a2) by reason of those features of the Council Land, and the historic use of the Spring Farm Area for quarrying and agriculture, it should be inferred that Council was aware as at and for some time prior to 1 November 2010 that the compaction and characteristics of the soil of other parts of the land within the Cornish Masterplan Area were at such times not suitable for residential building development; and
- (b) the terms and circumstances of the engagement of SMEC TS was ostensibly not such as to adequately achieve the purpose of ensuring the new lots, and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, would not be unsound for building.

24 As at the time CGSF commenced undertaking works for the staged residential subdivision of the Cornish Masterplan Area and as at the time CGSF commenced selling the new lots, CGSF was aware, or ought to have been aware, that the new lots and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area were unsound for building.

Particulars

- (a) CGSF had not satisfied itself adequately or at all that the Council Land, and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, had been made suitable for residential building development since 1 November 2010;
- (a1) CGSF was aware as at and from some time prior to 1 November 2010 that the compaction and characteristics of the soil of the Council Land was at such times not suitable for residential building development;
- (a2) by reason of those features of the Council Land, and the historic use of the Spring Farm Area for quarrying and agriculture, it should be inferred that CGSF was aware as at and for some time prior to 1 November 2010 that the compaction and characteristics of the soil of other parts of the land within the Cornish Masterplan Area were at such times not suitable for residential building development; and
- (b) the terms and circumstances of the engagement of SMEC TS was ostensibly not such as to adequately achieve the purpose of ensuring the new lots, and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, would not be unsound for building.

- 25 In about January 2015, SMEC TS created and issued individual Site Classification Reports (SCR) with respect to each of the new lots, classifying each lot as either Class M, Class S or Class H1, in accordance with clause 2.5.3 of Australian Standard 2870-2011 – Residential slabs and footings, representing in effect that each new lot was not unsound for building.
- 25A On or about 24 February 2015, the Plaintiff entered into a contract for sale to purchase the Property (at the time being a proposed lot in an unregistered plan of subdivision) from Anvest Holdings Pty Ltd (Contract for Sale).

Particulars

- (a) Contract for the sale of land dated 24 February 2015 between the Plaintiff as purchaser and Anvest Holdings Pty Ltd as vendor.
- 25B The Contract for Sale contained a term to the effect that completion of the contract was conditional upon registration of the plan of subdivision creating the Property.

Particulars

- (a) Special Condition 31 of the Contract for Sale.
- 26 Some of the Group Members purchased some of the new lots or other lots in the Cornish Masterplan Area, either from CGSF or from an intermediate owner, subject to settlement of the Contracts for Sale of Land not completing unless and until the Plans of subdivision creating those lots were registered.
- 27 The Plaintiff and some of the Group Members each caused to be constructed residential buildings on their respective lots.
- 28 In purchasing their respective lots, and in causing residential buildings to be constructed on their respective lots, the Plaintiff and the relevant Group Members each proceeded on the assumption that their respective lots were not unsound for building.
- 29 The assumption of each of the Plaintiff and the relevant Group Members was made in reliance on the conduct and involvement of each of the Defendants as set out above.
- 30 At various times after construction, a number of the houses constructed by the Plaintiff and the relevant Group Members suffered structural defects and damage in the form of, but not limited to, visible cracking, lifting, sinking, and other separations (the structural damage).

- 31 The structural damage was in all cases caused directly by the fact that the new lots, or the lots in other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, were unsound for building.
- 32 Each of the new lots is, and some lots located in other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area are, still unsound for building, and consequently are vulnerable to and prone to new or further structural damage.
- 33 Each of the new lots has, and certain other lots located in other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area have, been injuriously affected in value as a result of the fact that they are unsound for building becoming manifest.
- 34 Some Group Members own, or have since the structural damage became manifest owned, properties in the Spring Farm Area other than the new lots or the parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area where there are lots located that are unsound for building.
- 35 As a consequence of it becoming public knowledge that the new lots, and certain other lots located in other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, are unsound for building, all properties in the Spring Farm Area have become and are likely to remain, injuriously affected in value.

Particulars

- (a) the structural damage has become public knowledge since about 2018;
- (b) in the case of some of the properties, the structural damage has not been repaired and remains obvious to the public;
- (c) all properties in the Spring Farm Area have become stigmatised as a result of public knowledge that many properties in that area are unsound for building, as evidenced by the common use by sections of the public of the term "Sink Farm" for the Spring Farm Area;
- (d) the quantum of the adverse affectation on the value of the property will be particularised following service of the Plaintiff's opinion evidence; and
- (e) the quantum of the adverse affectation on the value of the land of Group Members will be given following opt out, the determination of the Plaintiff's claim and identified common issues at an initial trial and if and when it is necessary for a determination to be made of the individual claims of those Group Members.

Risk of Harm

- 35A If any land within the Cornish Masterplan Area was unsound for building, there was a risk of damage to property and economic loss being suffered by subsequent owners of any residential lots within the Cornish Masterplan Area, and within the Spring Farm Area, including the Plaintiff and Group Members (Risk of Harm).

Camden Council

- 36 At all relevant times prior to the Council Land transfer, Camden Council knew or ought to have known that the Council Land was likely to be used for residential building development.
- 37 As at the date of the Council Land transfer and at all material times thereafter (including the date of registration of the plans of subdivision creating residential lots in the Cornish Masterplan Area (including the Property)), Camden Council knew or ought to have known of the Risk of Harm.
- 38 At all material times, the Plaintiff and Group Members:
- (a) had no or no practicable ability to prevent, avoid or minimise suffering damage to property or economic loss as a result of undue settlement of the Council Land, or the undue settlement of land located in other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, or of consequent stigmatisation of land in the Spring Farm Area;
 - (b) were particularly vulnerable to any undue settlement of the Council Land, or the undue settlement of land located in other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, and consequent stigmatisation of land in the Spring Farm Area; and consequently
 - (c) were dependent for the protection of their property and economic interests upon Camden Council taking precautions against the Risk of Harm.
- 39 As a result of the matters pleaded in paragraphs 36 to 38 above, Camden Council at all relevant times owed a duty to the Plaintiff and Group Members to exercise reasonable care and to take reasonable precautions against the possibility of the materialisation of the Risk of Harm.
- 40 At all relevant times the Risk of Harm was:
- (a) foreseeable to Camden Council; and
 - (b) not insignificant.

Particulars

- (i) Camden Council was aware as at and for some time prior to 26 October 2010 that the compaction and characteristics of the soil of the Council Land was at such times not suitable for residential building development;
- (i1) by reason of those features of the Council Land, and the historic use of the Spring Farm Area for quarrying and agriculture, it should be inferred that the Council was aware as at and for some time prior to 26 October 2010 that the compaction and characteristics of the soil of other parts of the land within the Cornish Masterplan Area were at such times not suitable for residential building development;
- (ii) substantial earthworks were necessary as at 26 October 2010 for the Council Land, and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, to be made suitable for residential building development;
- (iii) if such work was not done or was not adequately done there was a high risk that residential buildings constructed on lots on the Council Land, and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, would suffer damage, such as the structural damage; and
- (iv) if a number of residential buildings constructed on lots on the Council Land, or other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, suffered damage, such as the structural damage, due to being unsound for building, property values in the area would likely be injuriously affected.

41 As a result of the matters pleaded and particularised in paragraphs 36 to 40 above:

- (a) there was a significant risk of harm if reasonable precautions were not taken against the Risk of Harm;
- (b) the harm that could occur in the event that the Risk of Harm eventuated was serious in that it could involve significant damage to property and significant economic loss;
- (c) the burden of taking reasonable precautions against the Risk of Harm was low or moderate or, in the alternative, was not unreasonable having regard to the probability that the Risk of Harm would eventuate and the potential seriousness of the harm if that occurred; and
- (d) the social utility of Camden Council's relevant activities was not so great as to have impeded it from taking reasonable precautions against the Risk of Harm.

- 42 As a result of the matters pleaded and particularised in paragraphs 36 to 41 above, a reasonable person in the position of Camden Council at the material times would have taken the following precautions against the materialisation of the Risk of Harm:
- (a) properly conducting the works necessary to make the Council Land suitable for residential building development;
 - (b) properly supervising and inspecting the works necessary to make the Council Land, and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, suitable for residential building development;
 - (c) taking reasonable steps to ensure that any material used for the works necessary to make the Council Land, and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, suitable for residential building development would itself be suitable;
 - (d) arranging proper and adequate geotechnical investigation of the Council Land before transfer of the Council Land, and before approving subdivision of the Cornish Masterplan Area (including the Council Land), and before any approval of residential building development on the Cornish Masterplan Area (including the Council Land) or individual lots comprising parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area (including the Council Land);
 - (d1) in circumstances where Camden Council was the principal certifying authority for the subdivision of the Cornish Masterplan Area (including the Council Land), only issuing a subdivision certificate for the subdivision of the land if properly satisfied all conditions contained in the development consent permitting the subdivision were satisfied;
 - (e) requiring CGSF to satisfy Camden Council that the Council Land was, and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area were, no longer unsound for building;
 - (f) observing and complying with Camden Council's own Engineering Specification, with respect to the Cornish Masterplan Area, including the Council Land;
 - (g) requiring CGSF to satisfy Camden Council that works had been done to the Council Land, and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, in compliance with the Engineering Specification;
 - (h) requiring CGSF to satisfy Camden Council that works had been done to the Council Land, and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, in compliance with Australian Standard 3798-2007 – Guidelines on earthworks for commercial and residential developments – in particular sections 4 and 5;

- (i) requiring CGSF to satisfy Camden Council that works had been done to the Council Land, and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, in compliance with Camden Council's Development Control Plan 2011, in particular Part B, section B1.2, control 19; and
- (j) instructing and advising any subsequent owners of the Council Land, and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, or individual new lots on the Council Land, and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, including but not limited to CGSF, the Plaintiff and the relevant Group Members, of the condition of the Council Land, and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, and of the danger of undue settlement of the Council Land, and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, (together and separately, the Council Reasonable Precautions).

43 Camden Council failed to take any of the Council Reasonable Precautions.

44 In the circumstances, Camden Council breached its duty of care to the Plaintiff and the Group Members.

Causation and loss

45 Had Camden Council not breached its duty of care:

- (a) the Council Land would not have unduly settled;
- (a1) certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area would not have unduly settled;
- (b) the new lots, and certain other lots in the Cornish Masterplan Area, would not have been unsound for building at the time of purchase by the Plaintiff and Group Members;
- (c) properties owned by the Plaintiff and Group Members would not have sustained structural damage due to the undue settlement;
- (d) the Plaintiff and the Group Members would not have sustained economic loss;
- (e) property values in the Spring Farm Area would not have been injuriously affected by stigmatisation;

- (e1) in the alternative, subdivision certificates would not have been issued for the plans of subdivision creating the properties owned by the Plaintiff and Group Members (and the properties would not have been created); and
- (f) in the alternative, the Plaintiff and the Group Members would not have purchased their respective properties at all.

46 In the circumstances, the Plaintiff and the Group Members have suffered loss and damage as a result of Camden Council's breach of duty of care.

Particulars

- (a) the structural damage to their properties;
- (a1) costs of demolition of residential buildings located on the properties, costs of remediation of the properties to make those properties fit for residential building and costs of construction of replacement residential buildings on those properties;
- (b) in the alternative, cost of repairs of the structural damage to their properties;
- (c) costs associated with investigating or otherwise ameliorating the structural damage to their properties;
- (d) adverse affectation on the value of their properties;
- (e) in the alternative, on the basis that the Plaintiff or Group Members would not have purchased their respective properties, the cost of purchasing the properties, including the transaction costs in purchasing the properties and attempting to sell or selling the properties, including but not limited to stamp duty and conveyancing costs; and
- (f) inconvenience, distress and vexation.

Further particulars of the Plaintiff's loss and damage will be provided following the completion of expert evidence and the service of evidence, but will include the cost of demolition of the residential building constructed on the Property, the costs of remediation of the Property to make it fit for residential building and the cost of construction of a replacement residential building on the Property.

CGSF*Negligence*

- 47 By no later than the date of the Council Land transfer and at all material times thereafter, CGSF knew or ought to have known of the Risk of Harm.
- 48 At all material times, the Plaintiff and Group Members:
- (a) had no or no practicable ability to prevent, avoid or minimise suffering damage to property or pure economic loss as a result of undue settlement of the Council Land, or the undue settlement of land located in other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, or of consequent stigmatisation of land in the Spring Farm Area;
 - (b) were particularly vulnerable to any undue settlement of the Council Land, or the undue settlement of land located in other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, and consequent stigmatisation of land in the Spring Farm Area; and consequently; and
 - (c) were dependent for the protection of their property and economic interests upon CGSF taking precautions against the Risk of Harm.
- 49 As a result of the matters pleaded in paragraphs 47 to 48 above, CGSF at all relevant times owed a duty of care to the Plaintiff and Group Members to exercise reasonable care and to take reasonable precautions against the possibility of the materialisation of the Risk of Harm.
- 50 At all relevant times the Risk of Harm was:
- (a) foreseeable to CGSF; and
 - (b) not insignificant.

Particulars

- (i) CGSF was aware as at and for some time prior to 26 October 2010 that the compaction and characteristics of the soil of the Council Land was at such times not suitable for residential building development;
- (i1) by reason of those features of the Council Land, and the historic use of the Spring Farm Area for quarrying and agriculture, it should be inferred that CGSF was aware as at and for some time prior to 26 October 2010 that the compaction and characteristics of the soil of other parts of the land within the Cornish Masterplan Area were at such times not suitable for residential building development;

- (ii) substantial works were necessary as at 26 October 2010 for the Council Land, and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, to be made suitable for residential building development;
- (ii) if such work was not done or was not adequately done there was a high risk that residential buildings constructed on lots on the Council Land, and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, would suffer damage, such as the structural damage; and
- (iv) if a number residential buildings constructed on lots on the Council Land, and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, suffered damage, such as the structural damage, due to being unsound for building, property values in the area would likely be injuriously affected.

51 As a result of the matters pleaded and particularised in paragraphs 47 to 50 above:

- (a) there was a significant risk of harm if reasonable precautions were not taken against the Risk of Harm;
- (b) the harm that could occur in the event that the Risk of Harm eventuated was serious in that it could involve significant damage to property and significant economic loss;
- (c) the burden of taking reasonable precautions against the Risk of Harm was low or moderate or, in the alternative, was not unreasonable having regard to the probability that the Risk of Harm would eventuate and the potential seriousness of the harm if that occurred; and
- (d) the social utility of CGSF's relevant activities was not so great as to have impeded it from taking reasonable precautions against the Risk of Harm.

52 As a result of the matters pleaded and particularised in paragraphs 47 to 51 above, a reasonable person in the position of CGSF at the material times would have taken the following precautions against the materialisation of the Risk of Harm:

- (a) properly conducting the works necessary to make the Council Land, and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, suitable for residential building development, including all works necessary to satisfy all conditions contained in the development consents permitting subdivision of the Council Land (including the Property);

- (b) properly supervising and inspecting the works necessary to make the Council Land, and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, suitable for residential building development;
 - (c) taking reasonable steps to ensure that any material used for the works necessary to make the Council Land, and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, suitable for residential building development would itself be suitable;
 - (d) arranging proper and adequate geotechnical investigation of the Cornish Masterplan Area, including the Council Land, before conducting any sales process of the lots contained in the Cornish Masterplan Area;
 - (e) satisfying itself that the Council Land was, and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area were, no longer unsound for building;
 - (f) observing and complying with the Engineering Specification, with respect to the Cornish Masterplan Area, including the Council Land and the new lots;
 - (g) satisfying itself that works had been done to the Council Land, and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, in compliance with Australian Standard 3798-2007 – Guidelines on earthworks for commercial and residential developments – in particular sections 4 and 5;
 - (h) satisfying itself that works had been done to the Council Land, and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, in compliance with Camden Council's Development Control Plan 2011, in particular Part B, section B1.2, control 19; and
 - (i) instructing and advising any subsequent owners of the Council Land, and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, or individual lots on the Council Land, and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, including but not limited to the Plaintiff and relevant Group Members, of the condition of the Council Land, and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, and of the danger of undue settlement of the Council Land, and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area,
- (together and separately, the CGSF Reasonable Precautions).

53 CGSF failed to take any of the CGSF Reasonable Precautions.

54 In the circumstances CGSF breached its duty of care to the Plaintiff and Group Members.

Australian Consumer Law

55 Further, in the factual circumstances pleaded above, at all material times CGSF was engaging in conduct in trade or commerce for the purposes of the Australian Consumer Law in Schedule 2 of the Competition and Consumer Act 2010 (Cth) (ACL).

55A At all material times since at least 2014, CSGF has represented to:

- (a) the Plaintiff; and
- (b) members of the public who are purchasers or potential purchasers of residential lots in the Cornish Masterplan Area (including some Group Members), that the residential lots located in the Cornish Masterplan Area were, and remain, suitable for residential building (Suitability representation).

Particulars

- (a) the Suitability representation is, at least, implied by statements contained on the Cornish Group website and in other marketing and promotional material prepared by CSGF since at least 2014 to encourage persons to purchase residential lots in the Cornish Masterplan Area for residential purposes, including for the purpose of building residential dwellings on those lots.
- (b) further particulars will be provided following completion of interlocutory steps.

55B Contrary to the Suitability representation, by reason of the use of uncontrolled fill and the subsequent settlement, or risk of settlement, of that uncontrolled fill, some or all of the residential lots located in the Cornish Masterplan Area are unsuitable for residential building.

56 In the factual circumstances pleaded above, CGSF engaged in conduct that was misleading and deceptive in breach of s 18 of the ACL.

Particulars

- (a) advertising, marketing and/or promoting the sale of the new lots without having taken the CSGF Reasonable Precautions.
- (b) conducting a sales process of the new lots without having taken the CSGF Reasonable Precautions.
- (c) expressly and/or implicitly representing to prospective purchasers of the new lots that they were not unsound for building when that was not the case.

57 Further, in the factual circumstances pleaded above, in connection with the sale or grant, or the possible sale or grant, of an interest in land or in connection with the promotion by any means of the sale or grant of an interest in land, CGSF:

- (a) made false or misleading representations concerning the characteristics of land; and
- (b) made false or misleading representations concerning the use to which the land is capable of being put or may lawfully be put;

in breach of s 30 of the ACL.

Particulars

- (a) expressly and/or implicitly representing to prospective purchasers of the new lots that they were not unsound for building when that was not the case.

57A The Plaintiff and some Group Members relied on the Suitability representation, the false or misleading representations made in breach of s 30 of the ACL, and the conduct of CGSF pleaded in paragraph 56 above, in purchasing residential lots in the Cornish Masterplan Area.

Causation and loss

58 Had CGSF not breached its duty of care and ss 18 and 30 of the ACL:

- (a) the Council Land would not have unduly settled;
- (a1) certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area would not have unduly settled;
- (b) the new lots, and certain other lots in the Cornish Masterplan Area, would not have been unsound for building at the time of purchase by the Plaintiff and Group Members;
- (c) properties owned by the Plaintiff and Group Members would not have sustained structural damage due to the undue settlement;
- (d) the Plaintiff and the Group Members would not have sustained economic loss;
- (e) property values in the Spring Farm Area would not have been injuriously affected by stigmatisation; and
- (f) in the alternative, the Plaintiff and the Group Members would not have purchased their respective properties at all.

- 59 In the circumstances the Plaintiff and the Group Members have suffered loss and damage as a result of CGSF's breach of duty of care and breach of ss 18 and 30 of the ACL.

Particulars

- (a) the structural damage to their properties;
- (a1) costs of demolition of residential buildings located on the properties, costs of remediation of the properties to make those properties fit for residential building and costs of construction of replacement residential buildings on those properties;
- (b) in the alternative, cost of repairs of the structural damage to their properties;
- (c) costs associated with investigating or otherwise ameliorating the structural damage to their properties;
- (d) adverse affectation on the value of their properties;
- (e) in the alternative, on the basis that the Plaintiff or Group Members would not have purchased their respective properties, the cost of purchasing the properties, including the transaction costs in purchasing the properties and attempting to sell or selling the properties, including but not limited to stamp duty and conveyancing costs; and
- (f) inconvenience, distress and vexation.

Further particulars of the Plaintiff's loss and damage will be provided following the completion of expert evidence and the service of evidence, but will include the cost of demolition of the residential building constructed on the Property, the costs of remediation of the Property to make it fit for residential building and the cost of construction of a replacement residential building on the Property.

SMEC TS

Negligence

- 60 At all relevant times prior to issuing the SCRs, SMEC TS knew or ought to have known that the Cornish Masterplan Area, including the Council Land, was likely to be used for residential building development.
- 61 As at the time of their geotechnical investigation works on the Cornish Masterplan Area and/or the Council Land and/or the new lots, SMEC TS knew or ought to have known of the Risk of Harm.

62 At all material times the Plaintiff and Group Members:

- (a) had no or no practicable ability to prevent, avoid or minimise suffering damage to property or pure economic loss as a result of undue settlement of the Council Land, or the undue settlement of land located in other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, or consequent stigmatisation of land in the Spring Farm Area;
- (b) were particularly vulnerable to any undue settlement of the Council Land, or the undue settlement of land located in other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, and consequent stigmatisation of land in the Spring Farm Area; and consequently,
- (c) were dependent for the protection of their property and economic interests upon SMEC TS taking precautions against the Risk of Harm.

63 As a result of the matters pleaded in paragraphs 60 to 62 above, SMEC TS at all relevant times owed a duty of care to the Plaintiff and Group Members to exercise reasonable care and to take reasonable precautions against the possibility of the materialisation of the Risk of Harm.

64 At all relevant times the Risk of Harm was:

- (a) foreseeable to SMEC TS; and
- (b) not insignificant.

Particulars

- (a) SMEC TS, in conducting businesses providing professional services in the nature of geotechnical investigation, were or ought to have been aware of:
 - (i) the significant risks of damage to buildings constructed on land that was unsound for building; and
 - (ii) the potential adverse effect on residential property value where the land was or might be perceived to be unsound for building.

65 As a result of the matters pleaded and particularised in paragraphs 60 to 65 above:

- (a) there was a significant risk of harm if reasonable precautions were not taken against the Risk of Harm;

- (b) the harm that could occur in the event that the Risk of Harm eventuated was serious in that it could involve significant damage to property and significant economic loss;
- (c) the burden of taking reasonable precautions against the Risk of Harm was low or moderate or, in the alternative, was not unreasonable having regard to the probability that the Risk of Harm would eventuate and the potential seriousness of the harm if that occurred; and
- (d) the social utility of SMEC TS' relevant activities was not so great as to have impeded them from taking reasonable precautions against the Risk of Harm.

66 As a result of the matters pleaded and particularised in paragraphs 60 to 66 above, a reasonable person in the position of SMEC TS at the material times would have taken the following precautions against the materialisation of the Risk of Harm:

- (a) properly conducting the works necessary to make the Council Land, and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, suitable for residential building development;
- (b) properly supervising and inspecting the works necessary to make the Council Land, and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, suitable for residential building development;
- (c) taking reasonable steps to ensure that any material used for the works necessary to make the Council Land, and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, suitable for residential building development would itself be suitable;
- (d) conducting proper and competent geotechnical investigation of the Council Land, and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, with due care and skill;
- (e) drilling to an appropriate depth for soil sampling when conducting geotechnical investigation of the Council Land, and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area;
- (f) providing proper and competent remedial bulk earthworks support services on the Council Land, and certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area, with due care and skill; and
- (g) exercising due care and skill in the preparation and issuance of the SCRs, (together and separately, the SMEC Reasonable Precautions).

67 SMEC TS-failed to take any of the Reasonable Precautions.

68 In the circumstances, SMEC TS breached their duty of care to the Plaintiff and Group Members.

Australian Consumer Law

69 Further, in the factual circumstances pleaded above, at all material times SMEC TS was engaged in conduct in trade or commerce for the purposes of the ACL.

70A By preparing and issuing the SCRs, SMEC TS represented to:

- (a) the Plaintiff; and
- (b) members of the public who are purchasers or potential purchasers of residential lots in the Cornish Masterplan Area (including some Group Members), that the residential lots in the Cornish Masterplan Area (or some of them), including the Property were Class M (or Class S or Class H1), in accordance with clause 2.5.3 of Australian Standard 2870-2011 – Residential slabs and footings’ (Class representation).

Particulars

- (a) The Class representation is express and contained in the SCRs.

70B Contrary to the Class representation, by reason of the use of uncontrolled fill and the subsequent settlement, or risk of settlement, of that uncontrolled fill:

- (a) the Property; and
 - (b) some or all of the other residential lots located in the Cornish Masterplan Area,
- were and are properly characterised as Class P, in accordance with clause 2.5.3 of Australian Standard 2870-2011 – Residential slabs and footings’.

70 In the factual circumstances pleaded above, SMEC TS engaged in conduct that was misleading and deceptive in breach of s 18 of the ACL.

Particulars

- (a) preparing and issuing the SCRs without having taken the SMEC Reasonable Precautions.
- (b) failing to advise CGSF, Camden Council, the Plaintiff or the Group Members that the new lots were unsound for building.
- (c) implicitly or expressly representing that the new lots were not unsound for building when that was not the case.

71 Further, in the factual circumstances pleaded above, in connection with the sale or grant, or the possible sale or grant, of an interest in land or in connection with the promotion by any means of the sale or grant of an interest in land, SMEC TS:

- (a) made false or misleading representations concerning the characteristics of land; and
- (b) made false or misleading representations concerning the use to which the land is capable of being put or may lawfully be put;

in breach of s 30 of the ACL.

Particulars

- (a) representing in each of the SCRs that the respective new lot was not unsound for building when that was not the case.

72A The Plaintiff and some Group Members relied on the Class representations, the false or misleading representations in breach of s 30 of the ACL and the conduct of SMEC TS pleaded in paragraph 71 above, in purchasing residential lots in the Cornish Masterplan Area, including because the preparation and issuing of SCRs which characterised the land other than as Class P, in accordance with clause 2.5.3 of Australian Standard 2870-2011 – Residential slabs and footings, was required for the land to be subdivided, such that the Plaintiff could not have acquired the Property, and some Group Members could not have acquired other lots, in the absence of the SCRs being prepared and issued by SMEC TS.

Causation and loss

72 Had SMEC TS not breached their duty of care and s 18 and s 30 of the ACL:

- (a) the Council Land would not have unduly settled;

- (a1) certain other parts of the Cornish Masterplan Area would not have unduly settled;
- (b) the new lots, and certain other lots in the Cornish Masterplan Area, would not have been unsound for building at the time of purchase by the Plaintiff and Group Members;
- (c) properties owned by the Plaintiff and Group Members would not have sustained structural damage due to the undue settlement;
- (d) the Plaintiff and the Group Members would not have sustained economic loss;
- (e) property values in the Spring Farm Area would not have been injuriously affected by stigmatisation; and
- (f) in the alternative, the Plaintiff and the Group Members would not have purchased their respective properties at all.

73 In the circumstances, the Plaintiff and the Group Members have suffered loss and damage as a result of SMEC TS' breaches of duty of care and breaches of s 18 and s 30 of the ACL.

Particulars

- (a) the structural damage to their properties;
- (a1) costs of demolition of residential buildings located on the properties, costs of remediation of the properties to make those properties fit for residential building and costs of construction of replacement residential buildings on those properties;
- (b) in the alternative, cost of repairs of the structural damage to their properties;
- (c) costs associated with investigating or otherwise ameliorating the structural damage to their properties;
- (d) adverse affectation on the value of their properties;
- (e) in the alternative, on the basis that the Plaintiff or Group Members would not have purchased their respective properties, the cost of purchasing the properties, including the transaction costs in purchasing the properties and attempting to sell or selling the properties, including but not limited to stamp duty and conveyancing costs; and

- (f) inconvenience, distress and vexation.

Further particulars of the Plaintiff's loss and damage will be provided following the completion of expert evidence and the service of evidence, but will include the cost of demolition of the residential building constructed on the Property, the costs of remediation of the Property to make it fit for residential building and the cost of construction of a replacement residential building on the Property.

Common Questions of Law or Fact

74 The questions of law or fact common to the claims of the Plaintiff and each Group member are:

- (a) whether the Risk of Harm existed;
- (b) whether the Defendants owed a duty of care to the Plaintiff and Group Members;
- (c) the nature, scope and content of any duty of care;
- (d) whether the Risk of Harm was foreseeable;
- (e) whether a reasonable person in the position of the respective Defendants would have taken the Council Reasonable Precautions, the CGSF Reasonable Precautions or the SMEC Reasonable Precautions;
- (f) whether the Defendants breached their duty of care in the manner alleged or at all;
- (g) whether the alleged breaches of duty of care caused or contributed to undue settlement of the land and consequent damage to the properties;
- (h) whether CGSF or SMEC TS engaged in misleading or deceptive conduct in trade or commerce in breach of s 18 of the ACL;
- (i) whether CGSF made false or misleading representations in breach of s 30 of the ACL;
- (j) whether any breach of s 18 of the ACL by CGSF or SMEC TS, or of s 30 of the ACL by CGSF, caused loss or damage;
- (k) whether there has been stigmatisation of properties in the Spring Farm Area as a result undue settlement of the land and consequent damage to some properties;

- (l) whether there has been adverse affectation on the value of properties in the Spring Farm Area as a result undue settlement of the land and consequent damage to some properties;
- (m) the extent of any adverse affectation on the value of properties in the Spring Farm Area; and
- (n) the principles for identifying and measuring compensable loss suffered by the Plaintiff and Group Members resulting from the alleged breaches of duty of care and misleading and deceptive conduct.
